THE MISSING MYRTLE

The Case Against Hoffheimer and Eberly Continued.

WHAT THE MOTHER BELIEVES.

Alleges that Myrtle was Abducted For the Purposes of Prostitution—The Defendants' Denial.

The news of the arrest on Thursday day afternoon, when a workman engaged with of W. F. Hoffheimer and Clarence in Varley & Everill's lime rock quarry examination.

It was finally agreed that the examination should be held on Tuesday, at 10 a.m., and the defendants then left, they having given continuing bonds in the sum of $1,000

cach on Thursday night.

As stated in yesterday's Herald, the complaint in this case is sworn to by Mrs. Wellington, who alleges that about three weeks ago the defendants abducted her daughter Myrtle, aged seventeen, for the PURPOSES OF PROSTITUTION. Immediately after the disappearance of her daughter, Mrs. Wellington, who will be remembered as the lady who for some time kept the Dewercaux House, called at at police head-quarters and made a statement of the case. She said that for some time Hoffheimer had been paying attention to her daughter and appeared to be much attacked to be. This appeared to be much attached to her. This attachment was so strong that he wanted to marry the girl, and while she certainly reciprocated his feelings to some extent, the mother would not consent to a marriage. Matters ran along in this way until over three weeks are when Consent. Matters ran along in this way until over three weeks ago, when Clarence Eberly, a friend of Hoffheimer and the Wellingtons, called at the residence of the latter, and after staying a short time went out, accompanied by the girl. According to the statements made, Hoffheimer was waiting outside in a carriage and Miss Wellington entered the vehicle and was driven off and since then the mother has heard nothing of her. Marshal Young at once commenced a working on the case, and received information which led him to suppose that the girl was in Ogden, but about this time the mother commenced investigating on her own account and so interfered with the officers that they were forced to give up the search. THE DEPENDANTS CLAIM to know nothing of the whereabouts of the girl and assert that they had nothing to do with her disappearance. Taken altogether, it is a most mysterious affair and it is to be hoped that it will soon be cleared. The defendants are both well known have, Mr. Hoffhelmer spring the agent of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company, while Mr. Eberly is a builder and an Odd Fellow in good standing. Miss Wellington is 17 years old and quite pretty.

MISSING MYRTLE POUND. Last evening the deputy marshal found the missing girl concealed in a private residence at Ogden, where she was taken in the closed carriage.

Late last night there were crowds on the streets discussing the matter, and many threats were made to mob the men charged with robbing a mother of her daughter.

A Light Day in Judge Zane's Court. In the case of August Larson vs. the South Galena Mining company, in which a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff on Thursday for $7,500 for the loss of a leg, Judge Zane yesterday allowed the defendant thirty days in which to move for a new A STAY OF EXECUTION.

In the case of Sarah J. Weaver vs.
David Weaver, W. L. Pickard, garnishee, was granted a stay of execution and the supercedeas bond was fixed at $1,500.

ANOTHER REAL ESTATE CASE.

The case of Simon Smyth vs. A. F. Law-son et al. was then taken up and tried be-fore the court. In this case the plaintiff sued to recover $1,466.65, alleged to be due him as commission on a real estate trans-

The case was submitted and taken under advisement.

The case of the Morgan Mining company vs. George A Meears, and J. J. Daly, six cases, were all dismissed by consent.

An order was made for a venire of twelve petit jurors, returnable on Monday. The case of W. R. Vice vs. J. H. Van Horn et al., was then taken up and the trial was in progress when the court adjourned.

Eberly on the charge of abducting Miss Myrtle Wellington, created a great sensation yesterday, and at 2 p. m., the hour set for the preliminary examination, Commissioner Greenman's office was thronged with newspaper men and spectators, who expected some interesting developments.
They were doomed to disappointment, however, as the hearing did not come off.

Judge Powers, who appeared for the defendants, announced that he was ready to go on with the investigation, but Mr.

HALLEN AND HART. A large and boisterous audience sat through the new and improved edition of "Later On," presented by Hallen and Hart, at the theatre last evening. When the piece was done here, Hallen was not along the females were less attractive, and some of the acts were rather venerable; but now it has all had a spring renovating, Hallen is in his old character; and the whole thing is a catchy, bright and hillarious as anything on the roads. Hallen and Hart are the leaders, of course, but following close after them comes the gracoful dancer and alarmingly high kicker Annie Lewis and the very comical sheriff Clutch of Mr. Sullivan; all the girls are bright and pretty, the singing is very beautiful and the piece is repicte with such neat things as the Spanish trie, the seng with bell accompaniment and any number of new and original specialties. It is on again this evening and it will easily fill the house a second time. brough the new and improved edition of

The concert to be given at the theatre on Tuesdey evening next under the anspices of the Young Ladies' Musical society and under the leadership of Prof. Krouse, is to include a very striking feature. This is the engagement of a dozen or so society young indies who are to receive the audience at the doors and hand them over to the ushers, who will be stationed at the various asies. The affair promises to be bon ton in all particulars.

Owing to the non-arrival of the costumes of or "The Brigands," "Said Pasha" went again last night. There was a large and enthusiastic audience present. Recalls were frequent and were pleasantly responded to. Mr. McWade and Mr. Frillman were especial favorites, repeating their successes of the previous night. Of the ladies, the honors were about equally divided between Miss Marchi and Miss Somers. The costumes are all very beautiful, the music is catchy and waltzy, the scenery magnificent and the fun continuous. There will be a matinee this afternoon, and the engagement will close this evening, "Said Pasha" being presented in both instances. This is one of most successful of modera comic operas.

HIS IDEA OF WOMEN.

What a Prominent English Author Thinks of American Indies-A Comparison with Europeans Girls.

A well-known English author, who was recently in the United States, was entertained by a gentleman and lady of wealth, residing on Fifth avenue, New York. In the course of the dinner the conversation turned upon American women, when the English gentleman said:
"Nowhere in America do you find such complexions and nowhere such health as we see in the faces and forms of English girls. I have noticed this in every city that I have visited. American ladies look tired, weak, faded. They lack color and they lack life. Existence seems a burden to them, not a pleasure. You in America, do not notice it, because you are here, while I can soe it very plainly."

We may say that this English author was prejudiced, was conceited, was bitter, but we cannot say that he was wrong. American ladies are not so strong, so healthy, so brilliant, as they should be. Their complexions are not so clear, nor their cyes so bright as could be desired. Doubtless the climate has something to do with this, but it is unquestionably true that by proper care, and a judicious use of the right means, these things can be overcome. Any lady who feels tired, despondent or weak can readily overcome these troubles by a proper use of a little pure whisky taken in water. Bear in mind, however, that it should be the best whisky, as anything else is injurious, and also remember that the best physicians and chemists in America unhesitatingly, declare that Durly's Pure Mailt has no equal. The effect of this whisky is to build up the system, to improve the complexion and to give brightness and vigor in the place of weakness and languor, it is being used by the leading ladies of the land, and its popularity proves its value.
